

A house and home - Activity cards

HOGARTH'S HOUSE

What these cards are

These cards detail possible reasons why the Hogarths chose to build an extension on their home.

When to use these cards

These cards relate to two activities on the first page of the 'A house and home' resource for KS3.

How to use these cards

Cut out the cards and provide each group or individual with the set.

Value

The Hogarths' extension increased the value of their home from £7 to £10.

Beauty

Their extension made the home symmetrical. Many architects make things symmetrical because they think it looks nicer.

Reputation

The Hogarths' home wasn't the biggest in Chiswick, but a bigger home is a sign William was earning a good income from his work.

Space for themselves

The Hogarths didn't have children, but they did have other people live with them like servants and children from the Foundling Hospital.

Space for their friends

The new extension included a large parlour room where the Hogarths could entertain their friends and guests.

Space for their pets

The Hogarths loved animals. They had several pet dogs named Pompey, Trump and Pug and even a duck named Dick!
