HOGARTH'S HOUSE

The Hogarths and their Home - Get Outside!

William Hogarth was an artist 300 years ago.
William and his wife Jane lived in this house, called Hogarth's House.

William and Jane liked to help people.

William helped open a special home in London for children who did not have parents.

These children would come and stay with the Hogarths in the summer. Jane would make the children pies with fruit from the mulberry tree in the garden!

Think about it.

Do you know anyone who needs help?
What could we do in our community to help others right now?

Your turn!

Why not try a good deed challenge?

When you do something to help, it's called a good deed.

Good deeds make people happy. They can be simple - like tidying up your toys, phoning someone who is lonely or putting your clothes away.

This week, try and do one good deed every day.

Maybe by the end of the week, you'll want to continue!

Challenge! Who can do the most good deeds? Ask an adult to tell us on social media using #HogarthAtHome
